About us

The National Institute of Teaching is a teacher and leader training and development provider. Founded by four of the country's most respected school trusts, we are run by schools, for schools. Our aim is to boost the quality of teacher and leader development by generating and interpreting research, applying the insights to the design and delivery of our programmes, and sharing this with the sector.

Where do we work?

Our programmes are available to all schools in England, delivered through a blend of online and in-person training.

Why train with the NIoT?

Our programmes are:

Relentlessly focused on impact on children's outcomes

Highly rigorous and highly practical: connecting research to the reality of schools, and applying global expertise to unique local contexts

Designed and delivered by exceptional serving leaders who understand the pressures and nuances of school life

Structured to fit around teachers' busy schedules

Special features

Masterclasses: learn from school-based experts applying evidence-based practice to a real school context

Practice clinics: use deliberate practice to help to embed new concepts and skills in your own practice (Specialist programmes)

Virtual School Visits: visit some of the highest performing schools in England and learn from leaders how they have established and embedded excellence

Group coaching: work with experienced school leaders to find solutions to the common issues faced in your own context (Leadership programmes)

What programmes do we offer?

The NIoT offers the whole golden thread from ITT onwards, including the full suite of NPQs.

The five specialist NPQs:

NPQ in Leading Teaching (NPQLT)

NPQ in Leading Behaviour and Culture (NPQLBC)

NPQ in Leading Literacy (NPQLL)

NPQ in Leading Teacher Development (NPQLTD)

NPQ in Leading Primary Maths (NPQLPM)

The four leadership NPQs:

NPQ in Senior Leadership (NPQSL)

NPQ in Headship (NPQH)

NPQ in Early Years Leadership (NPQEYL)

NPQ in Executive Leadership (NPQEL)
